

THAILAND GRAND FESTIVAL 2019

TUMBALONG PARK - DARLING HARBOUR, SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA

Over the weekend of the 30th and 31st of March 2019, the Thai community held its Thailand Grand Festival at Tumbalong Park, one of the famous parks in Sydney city.

On stage, there were a program of cultural folk dancing from different regions of Thailand and Thai Boxing show. And this year, specially, the exhibition of Nang-Nonn Cave and rescue team was set right in the main area of the festival. However, one was tempted to look away from the stage due to members of the audience wearing traditional adornments in a touching expression of Thai cultural pride. For those who wish to fulfil their religious duties a beautiful Buddhist shrine was set up some distance from the stage to facilitate quiet contemplation.

There were many stalls selling Thai food from the famous restaurants as well as a bar serving refreshing Thai beers and other stalls selling beautiful Thai silk and traditional handicrafts.

Valid until June 2019
